

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood. A red circle is drawn around a specific location on a street, likely indicating the site of the incident. The area includes houses, lawns, and some commercial buildings. A road runs diagonally through the center, and a green field is visible on the right side.

